Hi you! !! I miss your pep talks. . . .however I am soooooooooooooo happy I'm done!

Love the house! Pita (my dog) allows me to live here. She really thinks it was built for her. If you drove by then you know I really need curb appeal. (I'm thinking of entering in one of the HGTV curb appeal contests) It's all I can do to keep the yard mowed some weeks. Classes have been full and I've been teaching a lot.

Yes I've showed it off, what's a house without a party. We've had several here! !! I thought I sent the final info. I ended up with about $50K in equity (If I remember correctly)

As of road trip. . . WOOHOO I leave in the morning for Hill Country ! It will be the 1st trip I've taken since I started this adventure. I am so looking forward to a fun ride, relaxing with friends and of course a cold one at the end of the day!

Next time you drive by, stop in. I've had no issues with anything except the lawn. You're welcome to come to a work day ☺

Be safe! And Thank you for your help!

Debbie
